Pioneer Line of Steamers

FOR

Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York and Boston, via Albemarle and Chesapeake Canal.

THE COMMODIOUS STEAMERS PIONEER and Commodore Adams, will leave Newberne for Norfolk on TUESDAY of each week at 8 o'clock A M, connecting with the different lines of steamers for the above-named points. On and after the first day of December next they will leave on Tuesday and Friday of each week, making semi-weekly trips. Shippers of Goods will receive every facility and accommodation for the transportation of the same, as arrangements have been made with the different companies to forward goods to this line at low rates and without delay. Each of these steamers are capable of carrying through the canal without difficulty, as they were built expressly for the trade. They are fitted up with STATE ROOMS and BERTHS capable of accommodating thirty-five passengers. Every attention will be paid to the comfort of passengers, who will not be subject to the inconvenience of transfer to other vessels, but will be taken through direct without change.

The tables of the steamers are liberally supplied with the best the market affords. Families traveling will find it to their interest to take this line, as they will thereby escape the danger and discomfort of a sea route, and the fatigue of railroad travel.

On the 15th of December next, if the business of the line warrants it, the steamer Williams will be put on the route, and tri weekly trips will be made.

For freight or passage apply to Whitford, Dill & Co., Newbern, N C.

THE DAILY SENTINEL.

WM. E. PELL, Editor.

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 15, 1865.

OUR TERMS.

THE SENTINEL is issued every morning (Sunday excepted) at the following rates:

For Daily, per year,	$10 00
" six months,	5 00
" one month	1 00
" two months	2 00
Semi-Weekly per year,	5 00
Weekly per year,	3 00

Our terms are invariably in advance. The scarcity of money however, obliges us to say to our friends, that responsible and prompt persons who desire the Sentinel need not delay sending us their names at once, who can send us the Cash in a short time. The money may be sent us by the Rail Road Conductors or the Express Company.

THE PEOPLE must be trusted with their Government, and if trusted, my opinion is that they will act in good faith, and restore their former constitutional relations with all the States composing the Union.—Andrew Johnson's Letter to Gov. Sharkey, of Mississippi.

"X. Y. Z."

The ability and sprightliness of this writer, who is a correspondent of the Petersburg Index, and our hearty agreement with many of his positions, have led us to copy his articles into the Sentinel, without comment. His article however, which we publish to-day because of the anxiety of our readers to see it, while correct in principle, is rather severe. The writer rather descends from his hitherto elevated and pure temper, and deals in severe reflections upon gentlemen who have been successful in obtaining office over those whom he preferred. Perhaps, the writer has just cause to be offended at the course pursued by some of those with whom he recently acted in the election of Mr. Worth. It may be that he as a Democrat and the Democrats generally who voted for Mr. Worth, have just cause of complaint. If the claims of gentlemen have been ignored, because they have been and are still Democrats, we think the complaint a just one.

The late elections, so far as we know, had nothing to do with the former differences or party affiliations of the old parties. We had supposed that the war had obliterated all old party differences and distinctions, and that we had emerged from the war, in the same state of feeling and relation. During the war, men's party affiliations seemed to be distinguished more by the soubriquet of unwhipped, half whipped and whipped altogether; or the war men, the betwixt and betweens, and the out and out anti-war men. Since the war, all, we supposed, still ignored old party names and distinctions, and while all were for the early restoration of the Union, yet the people of the State were divided by one simple issue, i. e. between a liberal policy towards all parties and all classes in the matter of reconstruction, and the policy of the "strait sect" party. Mr. Worth was run by his friends as a Union man—with a more consistent Union record than Gov. Holden, and voted for as such, with but one distinctive issue; and that was, that Mr. Worth represented the liberal people of the State, those who were willing to forget the past in our common sufferings and ruin, and to make common cause with each other in securing our earliest restoration to the Union on the best terms we could get, while Gov. Holden was understood to represent the "strait sect" men.

We will not undertake to say, that this was made an issue throughout the State. In some cases, we are inclined to think, Worth men were elected who were not committed to this issue, but simply to Mr. Worth as being a better Union man than Gov. Holden, or rather with a more uniform and consistent record. Hence, "X. Y. Z." and all others who complain of the course of some of the Worth men, will see in the above fact, the real explanation for the votes they have given.

The reinstatement of the old judges we regarded as necessarily and properly growing out of the real issue before the people in the election. Hence we urged it as right, proper and consistent, and as due them. We still think the old bench both the Supreme and Superior Courts should have been reinstated. As gentlemen of high character, great worth and good judges, they were all entitled to it, and we regretted deeply the defeat of any of them. But one of them could with propriety have been left out, and he on the account of his age and infirmity. As an out and out Worth man and for his eminent fitness, ability and character, we desired the election of Wm. Eaton, jr., Esq., of Warren. The State has no purer man, no better man for that position and it would have gratified us had he been elected. In all these matters we agree with "X Y. Z," because consistency and propriety, and the disregard of old party distinctions which all professed to feel required this course.

But those elected are not unfit. If any member of the Legislature has done wrong or violated his pledges or the wishes of his constituency, in voting for particular persons, he is more blamable than the objectionable candidate who sought the office. Had we been a member of that body, we should have felt bound, to be consistent, to have voted against every man who was committed to the "strait sect" policy, and we should certainly have done so; but is it not uncharitable to blame those who did not, before we are fully advised of their reasons for their course or of their obligations to their constituents? We condemn no man unheard.

The election of Mr. Pool is we believe understood, to have been a concession on the part of some of the Worth men to the urgent demands of his friends and the friends of Gov. Holden. The same spirit we judge would have elected Gov. Holden to the short term, but it was understood that he peremptorily declined it. "X. Y. Z." makes a mistake in supposing that the enquiry [illegible] years ago, "Who is Mr. Pool?" was intended to apply to the Hon. John Pool. It was addressed in reference to our friend, Col. S. D. Pool of the Goldsboro News, many years ago, when he was elected, if we remember correctly, to the [illegible] of the House.

[illegible] must be stated, which is due to the Legislature. The real cause of the failure of our friends in electing men all round to suit them, is doubtless owing to the fact, that they did not caucuss, and hence did not always co-operate.—The elections often turned upon personal relations, and in some cases, men were led to believe that the election of certain individuals would give more satisfaction at Washington. Electioneering has seldom been more effective.—every influence having been exerted we are told, to accomplish the election of parties supposed to be allied with the "strait sect" party.

Superintendent of the Capitol.

Men either read very carelessly or are too apt to measure other people's grain by their half bushel. Our article on the Librarian yesterday had no earthly reference to any one in office It bears plainly upon its face the simple design to oppose the uniting of the office of Librarian and Superintendent of the Capitol, in the hands of one person, and nothing else. And yet the present incumbent informs us that many think it was intended to attack him. So far from it, we would vote to make him Superintendent of the Capitol, with a sufficient salary to pay him—He has made a good officer and is well fitted for that position, but we would not put him or any one else in both offices.

The Memorial.

We lay before our readers the well-written and truthful memorial of the Legislature, presented by its author, L. Blackmer, Esq, one of the delegates from Rowan, to the House for the adoption of the General Assembly, to be forwarded to President Johnson. Such a document must have its influence and we hope it will be unanimously adopted. The facts as stated by Mr. Blackmer are eloquent truths and deserve consideration.

HORSE STEALING.—We learn that Mr. H. O. Parker of this County, had all his horses stolen on Wednesday night. Also that W. B. Gulick Esq., of this City, is minus a horse.

SEC. 1 Neither slavery nor involuntary servitude, except as a punishment for crime, whereof the party shall have been duly convicted, shall exist within the United States or any place subject to their jurisdiction.

SEC. 2 Congress shall have power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation.

[Amendment] Has been adopted and ratified, in the sense given to it by the Hon. Wm. H. Seward, Secretary of State of the United States, viz: That it does not enlarge the powers of Congress to legislate on the subject of freedmen within the States.

Mr. Warren opposed the adoption of the resolution as useless, and calculated to do no good, but he was of opinion that it would be productive of much harm.

Mr. McLean addressed the Senate at length in defence of the resolution. Pending the debate, a message was received from the House proposing to vote at 1 o'clock for a Comptroller of State. Concurred in, and the further consideration of the above subject was suspended.

The Senate then proceeded to vote for Comptroller.

Mr. A. C. Cowles, Mr. W. F. Collins and Mr. C. H. Brogden being in nomination. Mr. Cowles received 21 votes, Mr. Collins 12 and Mr. Brogden 12.

The Senate then resumed the consideration of the resolution on Federal Relations, when,

On motion of Mr. Morehead, the resolution was laid on the table, and made the order of the day for to-morrow 11 o'clock.

A message was received from the House of Commons transmitting a Programme for the ceremony of administering the oath of office, to-morrow, Friday, at 12 o'clock, which was concurred in by the Senate.

A motion to lay the bill on the table was made, and did not prevail.

Mr. Howard then moved to refer to the committee on the Judiciary, which motion did not prevail.

The amendment was then rejected. Mr. Warren then moved to lay the bill on the table, and the yeas and nays being called, was decided, yeas 15 nays 27.

Mr Howard then moved to amend by making the penalty death for the second offence; and on this motion, Mr. Morehead called for the yeas and nays which resulted, yeas 33. nays 12. Then on motion of Mr. Morehead the bill was tabled.

HOUSE OF COMMONS.

THURSDAY, Dec. 14th, 1865.

The House met at 10 o'clock, A. M.

Prayer by the Rev. Henry Hardie of the Presbyterian Church.

The Journal of yesterday was read and approved.

REPORT OF COMMITTEES.

Mr. Waugh from the committee on Private Bills, asked that the committee be discharged from the further consideration of "a bill for the relief of Jesse B. Lee, late Sheriff of Carrituck county," and that said bill be referred to the committee on the Judiciary. Report adopted and reference made.

The special order for eleven o'clock, viz: the resolutions (introduced by Mr. Moore of Martin,) looking to the withdrawal of the Federal Troops and the re-establishment of civil government in North Carolina, was laid on the table on motion of Mr. Moore of Martin, who stated that he made this motion because the memorial offered by the gentleman from Rowan (Mr. Blackmer,) and adopted by the House embodied the object proposed in his resolutions.

INTRODUCTION OF BILLS AND RESOLUTIONS.

Mr. Moore of Alamance introduced the following resolution which was adopted:

Resolved, The Senate concurring, that the committee of arrangements for administering the oaths of office to Jonathan Worth Esq., Governor elect, be also instructed to invite His Excellency, the Provisional Governor, to be present and assign him an appropriate seat.

An engrossed bill to carry into effect an ordinance of the Convention of the State of North Carolina, entitled "an ordinance for the election of clerks and sheriffs," was read and referred to the Judiciary Committee.

An engrossed bill to modify "an ordinance to organize a temporary force for the preservation of law and order," passed its several readings.

Mr Smith, of Hertford, presented a report from the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund, which on his motion, was sent to the Senate with a proposition to print and refer to a joint select committee.

On motion of Mr. Barnett, a message was sent to the Senate proposing that the two Houses proceed forthwith to elect a Comptroller of Public Accounts. The Senate by message refused concurrence.

Subsequently on motion of Mr. Hutchison a message was sent to the Senate proposing that the two Houses proceed to the election of Comptroller at one o'clock, P. M. to-day.

The Senate by message announced concurrence.

Mr. McKay nominated A. C. Cowles, of Yadkin county.

Mr Dargan nominated Wm. F. Collins, of Granville county.

Mr. Simmons nominated Curtis H. Brogden, of Wayne county.

The hour having arrived the House voted as follows:

For Mr. Brogden 51 votes, Mr. Collins 26, Mr. Cowles 31. Mr. Caldwell voted for Bain.

The joint committee subsequently reported:

Whole number of votes cast 154. Necessary to a choice 78 Mr. Brogden received 63, Mr. Cowles 52, Mr. Collins 38, Mr. Bain 1. No election.

A message was received from His Excellency, the Provisional Governor, transmitting the report of the President and Superintendent of the Asylum for the Deaf and Dumb and the Blind. Sent to the Senate with a proposition to print.

Mr. Cameron, from the committee on the Library, submitted, by leave, the following report:

"The committee to whom was referred the Bill proposing to consolidate the offices of Public Librarian and Keeper of the Capitol, have had the same under consideration and beg leave to Report,

"That they think it would be highly inexpedient to consolidate said offices. The committee think the Librarian ought to be a gentleman of education—of literary attainments and acquainted with books; whilst the Keeper of the Capitol requires scarcely any other qualifications than that of using the broom with dexterity and efficiency. The offices are regarded by the committee as utterly incompatible, and they do therefore report the bill back to the two Houses, with a recommendation that it do not pass. It is bad policy to secure incompetent services at any price. All of which is respectfully submitted.

JOHN W. CAMERON,
Chairman of the House Branch
Library Committee.

The bill did not pass its third reading.

A bill to give the election of Clerk and Master in Equity to the qualified voters of Henderson County, was put on its second reading.

Mr. Cameron opposed the bill. He was not unwilling to trust the people, nor were they unwilling to trust him, at least where he was known; but he deemed it ridiculous, this clamor for giving to the people the power to fill all offices—The Legislature might as well provide for the election of midwives, stage-drivers or tinkers.—It would not surprise him should application be made to the General Assembly for a charter to set hens after awhile. The bill did not pass its second reading.

A bill to revive dormant judgments, was put on its second reading.

Messrs. Manly, Hoke, Burton, Blackmer and Dargan opposed the bill, Mr. Blythe urged its passage.

The bill did not pass its second reading.

On motion of Mr. Kenan a message was sent to the Senate proposing that the two Houses proceed forthwith to an election for Comptroller. The Senate by message, announced concurrence and the House voted as follows:

For Mr. Brogden,

Messrs. Barnett, Beasley, Black, Blackmer, Bonner, Bryson, Burgess, Caldwell, Cameron, Candler, Chadwick, Coates, Crawford, Davis of Carteret, Everett, Faircloth of Wayne, Farrow, Faison, Ferrell, Flythe, Foster, Gidney, Harper, Hawes, Hoke, Hyman Jenkins of Gaston, Jenkins of Warren, Judkins, Kenan, Kinney Lee of Gates, Leigh of Tyrrell, Logan, Lucas, Luke, Lyon, Manly, Marler, McEachern, McNair, Melson, Moore of Martin, Murphy, Murrill, Niven, Page, Palmer, Paschall, Shaw, Simmons, Smith of Columbus, Smith of Guilford, Smith of Hertford, Stalley, Thigpen, Trull, Webb, Whitley, Williams, Wilson, Yellowley.—63.

For Mr. Cowles,

Messrs. Speaker, Allison, Arrington, Ashworth, Baxter, Blair, Blythe, Burton, Carson, Dickey, Dunn, Faircloth of Green, Furr, Gaines, Garland, Hamilton, Harrison, Henry, Hodnett, Holderby, Holmes, Horton, Houston, Hutchison, Jenkins of Granville, Jones, Matthews, McAden, McDonald, McIntosh, McKay, Moore of Alamance, Moore of Chatham, Mott, Newsum, Potter, Rosebro, Smith of Columbus, Scoggin, Teague, Waugh, Wheeler, York—43.

For Mr. Collins,

Messrs. Cowan and Dargan—2.

The joint committee reported as follows:

Whole number of votes cast, 155. Necessary to a choice, 77. Mr. Brogden received 80; Mr. Cowles, 66; Mr. Collins, 7.

[The Reporter was in error yesterday, in stating that Mr. Jenkins of Warren said that a contract had already been entered into by the Wilmington and Weldon Railroad with the Adams Express Company for the exclusive carriage of Express freight, etc Mr Jenkins said that the committee on Railroads were advised that such a contract was in contemplation—had been signed for the Express Company, and now awaited the acceptance of the Wilmington and Weldon Rail Road Company. The resolution was introduced to prevent the consummation of this and similar contracts.]

[The Reporter stated in his account of Tuesday's proceedings, that the effect of the amendments offered by Mr. Faircloth of Wayne to "a bill for the relief of the holders of State Bonds issued since 20th of May 1861, under the act, ratified 16th February 1861, entitled an act to secure the completion of the Wilmington, Charlotte and Rutherford Railroad, and amend its charter," was to limit the benefit of the bill to the Company, excluding those bond-holders, who bought their bonds at nominal prices during the war, from the proposed substitution of bonds payable in United States currency for those originally issued. These amendments necessitated a corresponding change in the title of the bill, but in this no change was made. In yesterday's proceedings the passage of the bill was announced by its original title. That title embodies a feature which was stricken from the bill, so gentlemen appear as having voted for what they disapproved. Let the title be amended, and the Reporter will duly chronicle the fact.—It was no laches of his that this was not done at the time.]

From Georgia.

NEW YORK, Dec. 12—The steamer Herman, Livingston, from Savannah, on the 9th, has arrived.

Hon. Alexander H. Stevens, peremptorily declines the candidacy for the United States Senate.

Hon. C. J. Jenkins, who was recently elected Governor of Georgia, sent a communication to the Legislature on the 8th instant, declining the inauguration at present. Nothing is said in the proclamation about the election of Governor.

The Savannah Herald contains Provisional Governor Johnson's message to the Legislature, in which he entreats them to bring forward their prejudices and animosities and offer them as a sacrifice on the altar of our common country, that we may once more present the happy spectacle of brothers dwelling together in unity.

The House of Representatives has instructed the Judiciary Committee to report a bill securing to persons of color the right of property, the right to sue and be sued, and to testify in the courts.

House Committee Changes--Preparing for Jeff. Davis' Trial--Bill to Repeal Washington City Charter--An Air Line Road to New York--Personal, Etc.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11—Mr. Speaker Colfax announced to-day the House Committees. In view of the many conflicting interests that demanded important positions, the result seems to give great dissatisfaction. The New York delegation especially, feel that they have been ignored, the chairmanship of only two unimportant committees having been given them. Massachusetts on the contrary, is given the heads of four important committees, viz: Foreign affairs, postoffices, elections and naval affairs. The Western States have the chairmanship of eighteen committees, with three Western members on the committee of ways and means. The pressure from the West on the Speaker was very great The changes in the old committee of military affairs elicited the greatest surprise—Generals Garfield and Farnsworth being left off, and their places supplied with new members.

Representative Wilson of Iowa, introduced a bill to-day which was referred to the committee on judiciary, reorganizing the judicial system in the Southern States. The object of this bill is to perfect arrangements for the trial of Jeff Davis before the United States Circuit Court at Richmond.

The partial effect of the bill introduced into the House by Mr. Patterson, of New Hampshire, is to repeal the charter of the city of Washington. In view of the almost certainty of negro suffrage, and for other substantial reasons, a movement is on foot among some of the citizens to surrender the charter of the city to Congress.

The bill introduced by Mr. Garfield, of Ohio, to facilitate commercial intercourse between the several States in accordance with a paragraph in the annual message on the subject. It prohibits a per capita tax by a State on passengers travelling by rail or boat, and looks to a so-called air line rail way between New York and Washington.

Most of the Southern delegations of Congressmen elect have gone home. Those from Tennessee are still here.

Horace Greeley, who is now in town, announces himself earnestly in favor of President Johnson's reconstruction policy.

Gen. Logan was on the floor of the House to-day. He has made no decision on the Mexican question.

Secretary McCulloch visited Congress to-day.

Southern Representation—A Caucas to Modify Stevens' Resolution—A Conservative Triumph.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—A senatorial caucus was held to-day, occupied three hours of its session in deliberation upon the House joint resolution of Mr. Stevens The caucus was lively. The radicals severely attacked the President's policy, and Senator Doolittle defended it in an able speech. Upon a vote it was decided by 16 to 14 to strike out the important portion of the resolution as follows:—"And until the committee's report shall have been made and finally acted on by Congress, no member shall be received into either House from any of the so-called Confederate States, and all papers relating to the representatives of said States shall be referred to said committee without debate."

The resolution thus modified was adopted by the caucus, and read as follows:

"Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States, in Congress assembled, That a committee of fifteen members shall be appointed, nine of whom shall be members of the House, and six of the Senate, who shall inquire into the condition of the States which formed the so called Confederate States of America, and report whether they or any of them are entitled to be represented in either House of Congress, with leave to report at any time, by bill or otherwise." The result is a complete triumph for the conservatives, as it leaves the question of the early admission of the Tennessee delegation, and perhaps other Southern Congressmen, for the decision of each House, with debate. Senator Anthony was selected to present the modified resolution to the Senate to-morrow.

Thaddeus Stevens' Resolution--The Radicals and Southern Representation--Complaint against the House Committee.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—The long agony of the Senatorial caucus upon the Thad. Stevens resolution is at an end. Rightly apprehending an executive veto if they passed it, they put the thing in the shape of a 'Call for a Joint Committee" of nine from the House and six from the Senate. This is to inquire into the condition of the South, and report as to the right of representation of the late Confederate States. Under this arrangement Tennessee will be likely to come in soon, for the reason that the President is the dispenser of patronage and from that State. Greeley has worked like a beaver to make the radicals let down, and Raymond not to be outdone, comes out to-day strong for the President's policy. There is great complaint of the vast disproportion of chairmen of the committees given to New England.

Horace Greely on Reconstruction--He Counsels Harmony and Support of the President.

Horace Greely to-day addressed a card to the National Intelligencer, in which he sets forth his earnest desire for peace and harmony and reconciliation with everything and everybody. He says:—"I can conceive no possible good to our country—to any country—to any section, race or class, that is likely to be secured or promoted by alienation between the President and the Congress of the United States. On the contrary, it seems to me that every peril that now threatens us, every evil that now weighs upon us, would be aggravated, every good put at hazard, every hope clouded, if not blasted, by such a malign, untoward collision."

Alluding to the novelty and difficulty of our position, he says that it has no parallel in human history, and that "It is complicated by questions affecting the natural rights of freedmen, and our moral obligation to them as our humble allies in the late momentous struggle; concluding with the wish that we may promptly re-establish the Southern States in all their original rights and liberties, without sacrificing or hazarding those of any portion of the American people.

News from New Orleans.

Disregard of Civil Law—Address of Judge Paschal to the Texans—Election of Senators from Louisiana.

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 7.—The Monroe (La.) Register complains of military interference, by force of arms, to take from the sheriff of the parish a Treasury sub-agent, who had been arrested by a judge's decree on an affidavit charging him with having stolen cotton, and obtaining cotton under false pretences. The Register makes a strong complaint against the management of the cotton business in that section and in Southern Arkansas.

Mr. Burbridge, Treasury agent at New Orleans, has instructed his agent at Monroe to disregard the writs of sequestration and injunctions issued by the State Court, and claims to cotton taken by the agent are to be tried and investigated on the spot, and the cotton forwarded to New Orleans.

Judge Paschal, on his return from Washington to New Orleans, issued an address to the people of Texas, stating what will be required to get the State back into the Union. The State Convention must declare slavery abolished, and that it can never exist except as a punishment for a crime, and recognize the rights of negroes as freedmen; but not implying thereby the social equality with the whites, or equality at the polls.

The Legislature must ratify the constitutional amendment and declare the ordinance of secession the ratification of the Confederate Constitution, and the dependent acts for resistence, null and void, and must repudiate the State war debt.

The Judge cautions the people as to whom they may elect to carry these measures into effect, as great importance will be attached to their choice as evidence of their sincerity. General constitutional reforms outside of the above will not be allowed, unless submitted to the people for ratification.

The total valuation of property in the State of West Virginia, in 1861, was $98,123,977. The estimate for the new valuation amount to $179,308,-[illegible].

The Late Convention--Hon. Jonathan Worth--The New Appointees--Judge Manly--Hon. John Pool, Etc.

[Correspondence of the Daily Petersburg Index]

LONE ILSE, N. C., Dec. 9th, 1865.

MR. EDITOR: Many of the leaders in the Convention, lately in session at Raleigh, seemed to regard the cause for which the South had struggled for four years, as accursed of God and man. The ready submission of our people to the authorities of the United States, and the uniform evidence they had given of the entire good faith with which they yielded to the new order of events, was mistaken by those politicians, as dictated by the same feelings which actuated themselves. In this mood they evinced, in that body, the most arrogant and proscriptive spirit, and exhibited their vindictiveness to such an extent that many of us blessed God, we had not been committed to their tender mercies. Presuming that the people were with them, they declared vacant the State offices of those who had taken the oath of allegiance to the Confederate States. Such was the wretched pretext upon which was consummated the nefarious political scheme of expelling the old judges who had been elected to hold during good behavior. Although the power of the Convention to effect this purpose has been fully discussed, I am not lawyer enough to decide with whom lies the weight of the argument, whether with those who sustain, or those who deny, the right. But common sense teaches me, that to expel men from office for an alleged political crime, and to elect others thereto doubly guilty of the same crime, as the Legislature have done, is a monstrous shame, a shameful inconsistency, and gives the whole proceeding the character of a base political job—the first of the sort in the legislative history of North Carolina.

The election of Mr. Worth as Governor, and of a majority of Worth men to the Legislature, was intended by the people as a signal rebuke to proscription of all sorts, and especially to that of the Convention. It is difficult to understand by what arts of flattery and cajolery, many men were induced to abuse the trust reposed in them by their constituents, and to make themselves the instruments of a vile political ostracism, which marked for its victims almost every man who had ever breathed a wish for the success of the Southern cause, or who had ever been tainted with the leaven of Democracy. No doubt some who have manœuvered this scheme to the end, are congratulating themselves on the success which has attended their efforts; but the day of reckoning will come, and then the judgment.

It may, however, be alleged that some excuse may be found for the action of the Legislature in the character of the new appointees. As men, I have nothing to say against them; they are all "honorable men," but, as contrasted with the old incumbents, they do not figure to advantage. Who will have the hardihood to affirm that Reade, Barnes and Warren are better fitted to wear the ermine than Manly, Heath and Howard? This, however, can be said of Col. Barnes, that while he cannot be compared as a lawyer to Judge Heath, the latter had given him an open field, by having left the State for a theatre where his great abilities will, doubtless, reap a fitting reward. But your readers may accuse me of injustice to the legislature, inasmuch as they will say, the title "Colonel" was doubtless won in this instance, battling for the South. Judge Barnes, however, gained all his military honors and titles in a comfortable room, in the Capitol, as aid to Gov. Vance. There, according to the Standard, whose authority the Judge will scarcely now dispute, snugly ensconced from the turmoil of the day, he fared so sumptuously off English dainties, per steamer Ad vance, that he could only be described, in the elegant language of that journal, by the term "Stall-federate." It would be interesting to learn by what process Judge Barnes so gained upon Gov. Holden as to be selected as one of his pets, while Gov. Vance, whom he loved so well, is suspended, not exactly between heaven and earth, but between a pardon and a prison. This, at least, will be conceded, that the Judge, in the course of his reading, must have made himself fully conversant with the history of that renowned character, the "Vicar of Bray."

I confess that I like Mr. Warren fully as well as any of the appointees. Although a native of Vermont, the evidence of his adhesion to the Southern cause is too strong to be doubted. In the very beginning he helped to vote the State out of the Union, and as soon as hostilities commenced he raised. I understand, as many as three companies, all of which he was compelled to disband, by the unfriendly action of the then State authorities. But for this he might now be suing for pardon as an ex-Con. General. He is a good lawyer, but rather too excitable for a judge, and it is to be regretted, that he allowed himself to become a party to the expulsion of the old officers. Judge Howard, whose place he occupies, although the youngest man on the bench, gave as much satisfaction as any judge in the State. He was dignified, firm, patient and courteous, well versed in law, and blessed with good common sense, and received the plaudits of all parties as a model judge. He was sacrificed because he scorned to play the hypocrite, or to confess that he had been acting a lie for four years. But he is young, the world is all before him, and no doubt he will attain at the bar, and in public life, high honors and rewards.

The displacement of none of the old incumbents excites more indignant comment than that of Judge Manly. It is true, he was required to take the oath of allegiance to the Confederate States, by the Legislature of North Carolina, or otherwise be incapable of fulfilling the duties of his office. He did take it, and for this the Convention removed him, and the Legislature have supplied his place, by electing the Hon. E. G. Reade, who voluntarily took the same oath, I think, as a member of the State Legislature, as a Senator of the Confederate States, and who also took it as a Judge. Judge Reade had attained high position as a practicing lawyer, but from all I can learn, never stood very high as a jurist, and it was supposed, that his ambition lay altogether in the political line. Some years ago the Rev. Dr. Hooper made a violent onslaught on the legal profession, to which Mr. Reade, then at the bar, replied. While it was insisted, that the Rev. Dr.'s attack was all "sound and fury, signifying nothing," the defence was not regarded as a model of strength, and not does augur very favorably for the opinions of Judge Reade, yet in the womb of time. He is, however, a dignified, elegant and courteous gentlemen, and so cool—a rather enviable quality—as almost to be considered cold, a quality not so enviable. Judge Manly who was ejected to make room for Judge Reade, had served the public long and faithfully as a Judge. He is regarded as an able jurist, although as a lawyer, he does not take the very first rank. His opinions are models of classic elegance, and his purity and impartiality, in administering the laws, have never been surpassed. Being also he was, in all respects, a most unexceptional Judge, and it was hoped would escape the vindictiveness of party spirit. But, like Judge Howard, he has been removed without a fault, save political independence, and that, too, at a time of life when he cannot hope to gain practice at the bar, and is unfitted for any other pursuit. It is not surprising then, that every thinking and impartial man in the State, exclaims against

"Graced with all grace to grace a gentleman,"

"The deep damnation of his taking off."

But the most surprising feat of this Worth legislature, although not the most culpable, is the election of John Pool, of Bertie, to the Senate of the United States. This can only be accounted for on the ground of concession to the powers that be; but if any one suppose for an instant, that this election will mollify Governor Holden, he is egregiously mistaken. These gentlemen, whatever may be their apparent harmony, cannot have any innate love for each other—they were foes too long for that. The great mistake, in this instance, was in not electing Governor Holden. He is a man of far more real ability, and, in all respects, far less objectional to Southern men, if you will, than Mr. Pool. Governor Holden has great influence at Washington, Mr. Pool has none. Governor Holden has done much for our suffering people, Mr. Pool has never done anything. Many a Southern man feels grateful to Governor Holden for favors conferred, I have never heard of one who has the same reason to feel grateful to Mr Pool? It was a great mistake, therefore, not to elect the Governor, in preference to Mr. Pool, leaving him to accept, or decline, at pleasure.

Of Mr. Pool's fitness for the position, I may not be qualified to speak. He might show to more advantage were he not thrown in contact with Governor Graham. Not many years ago, when he first made his appearance on the political stage, some persons asked, "Who is John Pool?" To which one of the editorial fraternity replied, with no less force than truth, "He is the son of old man Pool." He who received this satisfactory response, might now, when thinking of the subject of his enquiry as United States Senator, find himself like unto the old lady, who knew General Jackson in his youth, and could never refer to him as President without laughing. X. Y. Z.

Memorial to His Excellency, the President of the United States.

To His Excellency,

The President of the United States:

The Memorial of the General Assembly of the State of North Carolina respectfully shows that this Assembly was appointed, elected and convened in strict accordance with your Excellency's plan for reorganizing the States lately at war with the United States. The people of North Carolina embraced with zeal and with a loyal spirit, your Excellency's plan for the restoration of the State to the rights of a member of the Federal Union, and since the surrender of General Johnson, they have been universally actuated by a fixed and honest desire to be faithful citizens of the United States.

According to your Excellency's instructions, a Convention of the people was held in October, which Convention repealed the ordinance of secession, declaring it never to have been in force; abolished forever the institution of slavery, and forbid the Legislature ever to assume or provide for debts contracted for the war. The Convention also provided for an election for Governor, for members of this Assembly, and for various local officers, and immediately after the meeting of this Assemby, the amendment to the Constitution of the United States, abolishing and prohibiting slavery, was ratified with almost perfect unanimity.

The late elections were held without excitement or tumult, and in good faith towards the government and Constitution of the United States, and whatever differences of opinion there may have been as to men, the people were a unit in their desire to do all that your Excellency required them to do, and to live in peace under and in obedience to the general government of the United States.

Your memorialists therefore respectfully desire that the civil law may be restored, and the State permitted to resume its position as a member of the Federal Union. They make no complaint of the military authority here, but on the contrary, would bear cheerful testimony to the wise regard of your Excellency for the interest of the people, and to the efficiency and courtesy of the officers who are, and have been, in command in North-Carolina. But it is respectfully and earnestly submitted, that the wisest and best system of military rule alone, will necessarily fail in accomplishing what the circumstances of this people require.

They have for generations been accustomed to the exercise of civil law, to the machinery of a State with a Governor, Legislature, Courts of various grades, and county organizations. Hundreds of important and vital interests are awaiting the care of local legislation and of local officers, and the sad desolations of war, material and moral, demand that life and energy should be immediately imparted to every agency of society. The interest of the people of North Carolina are the interests of the people of the United States; it is important to the whole country, that the great resources of the region should be developed; that the soil should be cultivated with hopeful energy and thrift; that trade should be revived; that schools should be established; that crime should be punished, and a healthful, moral tone promoted. No human being in North Carolina anticipates the possibility or the desire of renewed rebellion here, and all the inhabitants of the State desire to perform their obligations to the country, and to have the national credit sustained.

But the present state of suspense and insecurity of long continuance will necessarily result in the most deplorable injuries. It is natural that the late tremendous contest should make sad breaches in society, and open the way for a fearful harvest of ruin and crime. The people so severely crippled in their pecuniary resources, and in the loss of nearly all their implements of industry, are in danger of becoming hopeless and heartless. Honest and useful enterprise is at a stand, works of internal improvement are likely to be arrested and go to decay, moral agencies of every kind are languishing, the tendency to immigration is checked, and the all-pervading power of the civil law, executed by numerous and efficient agents, being no longer felt, there is no security in the dealings between man and man; the passions of the evil disposed are not held in check, and oppression, fraud, violence, and wrong, in all their countless forms, are left to prey on every community. If the threatened process of demoralization is not speedily checked by the life infusing power of efficient civil authority, and by the restoration of moral power, North Carolina, instead of being a useful and profitable member of the Federal Union, will be scourged by the outlaw and bandit, and will fall into a condition in which she will be only a burden to the General Government. In view of these considerations, so important to the entire nation, your memorialists respectfully ask that the machinery of the civil government of the State may be restored, to protect our rights and punish all crime, and be thereby enabled to preserve our ancient fame as a moral, pure and law-abiding people. And they would ask this much, even if, for reasons that seem good to your Excellency, North Carolina is not permitted to resume her position in the Federal Union.

When North Carolina gives her pledge, she does it honestly. She has again tendered her plighted faith to the Government of the United States, and she has manifested her spirit by acts that speak for themselves. There is no disloyalty among her people, no thought or dream of another rebellion. They are not ashamed of their course however, nor of their honest tenacity of purpose and desire to be free, and they feel assured that the brave and generous people of the North will respect in them that manhood which upon an hundred fields has won the applause of a gazing world.

They have cheerfully given up their slaves and they are now actuated by a sincere desire of promoting the welfare and happiness of the unfortunate negro between whom and them, there are very many old and tender ties.

Your memorialists present themselves to your Excellency and to the Representatives of this Great Nation, with as honorable a purpose as ever actuated any people.

Tendering to your Excellency the heart felt thanks of the whole State for your just and magnanimous policy in the past, your memorialists would commend the above considerations and requests to your early and earnest regard, and respectfully ask that they be laid before the Honorable, the Congress of the United States, now in session.

And your memorialists will ever pray, &c., &c.

THIRTY-NINTH CONGRESS--FIRST SESSION.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12, 1865.

SENATE.

Mr. Davis of Kentucky, offered a resolution, which was referred to the Judiciary Committee, declaring that whereas there is no longer any rebellion in the United States, therefore the privilege of the writ of habeas corpus is restored in every State.

The Senate by a vote of 33 to 11, amended and passed the House resolution providing for the appointment of a Joint Committee of fifteen, to inquire into the condition of the States which formed the so-called Confederacy, and report whether they or any of them are entitled to be represented in either house of Congress.

The Senate then adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

The Speaker submitted a communication from the Governor of Virginia, enclosing the act of the General Assembly in favor of the repeal of the act, giving the consent of the Legislature of Virginia for forming the new State of West Virginia. Referred to Judiciary Committee.

Mr Raymond presented the credentials of the members elect from Tennessee. Mr. Stevens objected, saying that the State of Tennessee was not known to the House.

The Speaker overruled the objection.

Mr. Raymond said there were many facts connected with Tennessee's past and present conduct, which commended its case to the early consideration of the House.

Several gentlemen wanted the Tennessee members at once admitted, landing them for their patriotism during the war.

The House referred the credentials to the joint committee of fifteen on the condition of the late Confederate States, by a vote of 145 to 42, and passed a resolution inviting the members elect from Tennessee to occupy seats in the Hall of Representatives. Pending the decision of the case, the House adjourned.

Drowned.

Two young ladies, named Mullen, with their brother, while crossing the river at Buchanan, a few days since, became alarmed by the rocking of the boat, and believing it was about to upset, sprang into the water and sunk to the bottom. There was no necessity for the rash act, which was the result of pure fright. At the latest information, their bodies had not been recovered.—Lynchburg Republican.

We regret to learn that the cotton house of Mess. Powell and Clarke, at their Factory on Catawba river, with upwards of a hundred bales of cotton, was fired and burned by an incendiary, on a night of last week.

The trustees of Randolph Macon College are to meet at the College on the 10th of January next, to consider the question of removing the college to some other locality.

ASHEVILLE NEWS.—Mr. Atkins has retired from the editorial chair of the Asheville News, and is succeeded by an association of gentlemen. J. M. Israel is the publisher.

NEW GOODS.

New Line Opened! Makes Two Trips to the Old Line's One!

A. CREECH HAS JUST RETURNED FROM the North, where he has bought his second supply of

STAPLE AND FANCY DRY GOODS,

Embracing the various New Styles of the Season, together with Ladies' Cloaks, Long Shawls, Breakfast Shawls, Ladies and Misses' Goods, Ladies and Misses' Hoop Skirts, Ladies and Misses' Balmorals, Gentlemen's Boots and Shoes, Boys, Youths and Children's Boots and Shoes. Felt Hats, the Derby the Dunbar, the Planter's wide brim, and other styles for Men's wear. Boys, Youths and Children's Hats. Wood and Willow Ware, Crockery and Glass Ware, and a superior lot of Family Groceries.

Take my stock altogether, I have one among the largest and most desirable and complete stocks of Staple and Fancy Dry Goods in the City.

Now, allow me to say that I bought my Goods to sell, and they must and shall be sold; but I don't expect to take a piece of poetry in one hand and a full grown humbug in the other and climb up to the clouds and fish out the birds of Paradise and gently bring them down with a placard stuck on their backs, "Selling out at Cost! selling out at cost!" No, I deal in no such humbug. I keep no such a class of Goods. I keep no time worn, shelf-rubbed, defaced or dusty Goods—dust so thick you can rub it off with a knife. My Goods are all new, and of good styles, and I intend to sell them as low as anybody that bought goods with the expectation of paying for them, and the man that sold the goods to the man that don't intend to pay for them, is a fool—and the man that sells them is a rascal. Now this is plain talk, but 'tis no slip of the tongue. I mean what I say, and say what I mean. I have lived here and sold goods here for twenty years. I expect to remain here. I pay my taxes to support Institutions of the City, County and the State. I expect to continue to do so. I respectfully ask my old customers, my old friends and new ones to call and examine my stock. I will deal with you honest and treat you right. If I don't sell you goods as cheap as you can buy the same class of goods elsewhere I don't expect you to buy. Call at the R. Smith building, house formerly occupied by Creech & Litchford, Merchants and Auctioneers.

A. CREECH.

GREAT BARGAINS

IN CLOTHS AND FANCY DRY GOODS.

THE SUBSCRIBER RESPECTFULLY ANnounces to his friends and patrons, and to the Members of the Legislature, and to strangers visiting the City, that he continues to carry on the

at his old stand, where he will be happy to see them and sell them great bargains in his line. He would also call the attention of those of the Military Department wishing to purchase clothing, uniforms or citizens' dress, to the fact that they will find great bargains. In style and taste they cannot be surpassed by any in this city or any other. He deems it unnecessary to say any thing of his own skill in the Tailoring business, but it will suffice to say that his experience has not been for a few years only, but for the last 25 years. He therefore solicits a liberal patronage. Prompt attention will be given to persons wishing to have cutting done. Orders from a distance will be thankfully received and promptly attended to. Call at store No. 15 Fayetteville Street, Raleigh, N. C.

MRS. FENTRESS has opened a Boarding House next door, about 150 yards from the Capitol, where she will entertain members of the Legislature or transient Boarders.
